

WEBBED (4'10")
by Maria Morancho

The love story of a Woman and a... Spider!

While spiders prepare their 'webs' so do humans. Meanwhile a Girl and a Spider meet. But whose wedding is it? And does she understand when she says 'I Do'?

Director's Statement

Exploring traditional story telling I came to think that we need a retelling of some fairy tales or create new ones. To challenge once and for all the 'happy ever afters' deeply imbedded in our psyche, Webbed takes a twist on the traditional 'Red Riding Hood', 'Red Shoes', and the institution of marriage. It proposes a reading that gives a truthful ending as suppose to one devised to blind and control women's freedoms. This new tale explores our relationship to 'the other', understanding that 'the other' belongs to a world very different to one's own.
